Our thanks to the following contributing artists:

Steven Crompton
Cody

Deb Dedon
Real Musgrave

...and many thanks to:

The One Book Shop, The Readerie, and Stalking Moon Book Store for selling memberships; The SunBurst Resort Hotel for their cooperation, especially Linda Neutzman (Catering Manager), Dick McCann (Convention Coordinator), Mark Schilling (Front Office Mgr.), Larry Ekstrom (Sales Director), Steven Carver (Asst. Gen'l Mgr./Food & Bev.), and Kevin Lesk (Reservations); GiGi Dane (the prior Chair for CopperCon 4) for her initial work on the Con; Julie Douglas for her typesetting; Margaret Grady for many tedious hours of paste-up above and beyond the call of a Treasurer; Kim Farr for her many miles of driving around town and whipping the Chair into action (tastefully); to the Committee for their hard work in organizing the Con; and last (and not least) to all of you for coming to CopperCon 4 and partying with us for another year!

HOTEL

The special CopperCon rate is $42 (plus tax) for single-double occupancy. Additional people are $10/children free. These are DELUXE oversized rooms with a wet bar and refrigerator in every room. The hotel may have a few rooms remaining...check with their front desk or call them at (602) 945-7666 locally. They will bill no-shows if you have already made a reservation (prior notice was required for cancellation).

IMPORTANT!! Anyone who is under 18 is required to have a parent or guardian sign their hotel checkin form if they are staying in the hotel. This is required by the fact that minors cannot be held responsible for unpaid hotel bills!

GREETINGS FROM THE CHAIR

- 1) A GREAT committee,
 - 2) a FANTASTIC hotel, and
 - 3) a WONDERFUL convention facility
- add up to 6! (the Chair is rapidly losing touch)

MAW

A side-benefit of membership in CopperCon is that you will automatically receive a one-year subscription to our quarterly newsletter, MAW. This nifty publication is meant to keep fans informed about cons, clubs, books, and other noteworthy events. Anyone is invited to contribute relevant articles. You should have received (if you were a member in CopperCon 3) your first issue just prior to this convention. We are reviving MAW after over a year's hiatus.

We wish to thank the former editor, GiGi Dane, for her fine work on behalf of Arizona fandom and hope she and everyone else reading this will contribute to MAW!

... AND NOT A BITE TO EAT

The Scottsdale area abounds with restaurants, though there are few "fast food" places in easy walking distance. Your best bet is to drive or else eat at the hotel.

The hotel restaurant is excellent (many of the committee members have eaten there and not only survived the experience, but thrived on it). New Times recently reviewed them and gave high marks. For example, for those of you who are cost conscious, luncheon prices are $4.50 for a mushroom burger and up to $11.25 for Seafood Salad for lunch. Supper is from $4.50 for the same mushroom burger and up to $21.50 for Australian lobster tails. We're not saying the food is cheap, but it's not outrageous and it is quite good.

VIDEO

by Shane Shellenbarger

Prepare for a blitz, media fans! We are going to pay tribute to the movie and television adaptations of material written by some of science fiction's leading writers.

We will also be showing the adventures of several time-travelers. Who? You'll have to come to find out! And always remember...wherever you are, you're there.

FILM PROGRAM

by Jim Cryer

The film program will be run until at least the hours shown in the Schedule. Depending on the availability of projectionists, they may run much later with repeats of the more popular films in the program. Look for additional times to be posted on the bulletin board outside of the film room.

"THE ANGRY RED PLANET" (1960)

A giant amoeba surrounds four astronauts trying to return from Mars. Good special effects, dynamite bat on stilts!

"BATTLE OF THE WORLDS" (1961)

A mysterious planet from another galaxy (as opposed to a well known galaxy from another galaxy) is speeding on a collision course with Earth. An awesome space battle between Earth and the planet ensues.

"CASINO ROYALE" (1967)

David Niven, Woody Allen, and Peter Sellers as James Bond? A lighthearted, star studded spoof of James Bond. Don't miss it!

"THE CRAWLING EYE" (1957)

A research lab in the Swiss Alps is terrorized by a strange, tentacled monster.

"DESTINATION INNER SPACE" (1966)

Oceanatus discover an invading space ship on the edge of a newly-formed, bottomless "deep".

"DESTINATION MOON" (1950)

Man's first voyage to the moon is shown in this milestone in the history of science fiction film making.

"DR. GOLDFOOT & THE BIKINI MACHINE" (1965)"

Vincent Price as the Mad Doctor who is manufacturing girl robots to acquire the fortunes of wealthy men.

"EARTH VS THE FLYING SAUCERS" (1956)

Can Earth survive the attack of flying saucers from outer space? Come see and find out!

"FIRST MEN IN THE MOON" (1964)

Man lands on the moon only to find out someone landed there in 1899

"THE GHOST IN THE INVISIBLE BIKINI" (1966)

Comedy, music, and ghost in an old haunted house where the beach party gang shows up.

"THE LAST MAN ON EARTH" (1964)

Vincent Price is the sole survivor of a strange plague, trying to find another living human being.

"LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS" (1960)

Roger Corman's low-budget film about a floral shop with a very interesting plant.

"THE NIGHT THE WORLD EXPLODED" (1957)

A machine perfected to forecast earthquakes says the Earth will explode within 4 weeks.

"THE 30-FOOT BRIDE OF CANDY ROCK" (1959)

Abbott and Costello's last film is funnier than ever. Lou is an amateur scientist (the best kind) who invents a machine that moves people forward or backward in time with side-splitting results.

"THOSE FANTASTIC FLYING FOOLS" (1967)

The wild, wild world of P. T. Barnum...and the bang that broke the Bank of England!

"TWENTY MILLION MILES TO EARTH" (1957)

Ray Harryhausen's special effects. A space ship returns 20 million miles from Venus with interesting results.

"VISIT TO A SMALL PLANET" (1960)

Gore Vidal's witty Broadway farce about a visitor from outer space, altered to fit a mugging Jerry Lewis.

"WARLORDS OF ATLANTIS" (1978)

Seeking mankind's knowledge from the past, explorers dive to the bottom of the ocean and discover Atlantis.

"ZOTZ" (1962)

A college professor finds an ancient coin which possesses magical powers (comedy).

SOMTOW SUCHARITKUL
Writer Guest of Honor

by Bruce Farr

Somtow Sucharitkul gave me a first impression of a manic Samurai. His great wit and high energy is infectious and very appealing to everyone around. As an example, from my last conversation with him I'm fully expecting to see him in a punk haircut with a fluorescent orange stripe down the middle. That's was probably his way of saying that he had a trim at the barber's.

Somtow is Thai, educated in England (his father a diplomat who was posted to various places around the world), and corrupted in the U.S. His first career was as an avant-garde composer. He has also conducted full Symphony orchestras.

His career as a science fiction author started in 1979 with several short stories in Analog, Amazing, Chrysalis, Isaac Asimov's Science Fiction Magazine, and others. Many of these are collected in a Donning Press book entitled "Fire from the Nine Dark Sea". This book is especially significant as it contains bio information and other insights into his character. In 1981 his entrance into sf was heralded with his winning the John W. Campbell award for Best New Science Fiction Author of the Year (given at the World Science Fiction Convention in Denver).

This may be the time to kick off the Somtow in '85 campaign for the Australia WorldCon Hugo awards. Only six months or so remain until nominations for the Hugos for '85, so time's wasting!

And I'm quite serious. Starting for the 1980 Campbell award Somtow distributed buttons proclaiming "Somtow in '80" (inspired, no doubt, by the election campaign going on). His short stories and novels both are worth of consideration, though what I have most noticed lately are his novels.

His first novel was Starship and Haiku, a title that seems to immediately confirm that he's Japanese (sorry, I can't get rid of the Samurai image). His second book (not at all as serious in tone as the first) was Mallworld (my personal favorite, it's about a giant shopping center in space - even more strange than it sounds and a lot of fun). His third novel, The Aquiliad, is his second satire. It's an unflattering (of the Roman Empire) satire of what could have happened if Rome had relatively modern technology and had discovered the New World.

His most recent novels are the two published (of a series of four) to date in the Chronicles of the High Inquest. Light on the Sound then The Throne of Madness are the sort of book I find hard to put down (they put glue on the pages). It's a series as grand as the Foundation Trilogy and is quite serious in tone.

Somtow is now working on Vampire Junction, under the name S. P. Somtow, the fourth Inquestor series novel, an historical novel set in Bronze Age Greece, and a tie-in book for the NBC television series V. As a tribute to his still-active first career, we plan on playing some of his music during "half time" at the costume contest.

A Bheery Revery. (Of sorts)
by Curt Stubbs

Damn Sam, how long's it been since we prowled our first con pre-dawn hall together? Do you remember? I'm not sure I do. Eight or nine years? Yeah, that seems about right, though of course it seems like only just a week or maybe two at the outside. These are precious times Sam, treasured. When the con is mostly put to bed at night and you and I have roamed the halls together looking for the last vestiges of civilisation as we know it. Oh yeah, and don't forget how in our search for sustenance, intelligence and life as we believe it should be, we exchanged our own world views. You with your libertarian Polemic, I with my libertine anarchy. You arguing smokers' rights, I defending the purity of air (even in our respective cities? Oh, come now!). You extolling Doc Smith, I defending Harlan Ellison--the writer. Oh sweet Ghu, Sam, these debates have been multi-faceted jewels set in the often undistinguished chain of cons I wear around my psyche.

Hey, remember...was it WesterCon in San Francisco, 1979?...Yeah, yeah, that was it. Remember? How once again we ended up together party hopping in the after-after hours just before dawn stains the eyes of unwary revelers? I have always believed that you gravitated to me that night with the knowledge that if there was bheer to be found, I would find it. And I know I sought you out knowing that if there was intelligent conversations available, you'd be in the middle of it, or provide it or somehow stimulate it. Guess what? We were both right. I guess some people just have their priorities in order, right?

Ya know what I've always admired about you, Sam? For a libertarian, you're a real democrat. No, really, I'm serious. You are always so willing to talk to anyone. For all your intelligence, knowledge and erudition you are not a snob. That's very democratic of you. I like it, and admire it. A lot. And I can see why CopperCon has chosen to honor you as Fan Guest of Honor. Now stop it Sam, allow me my say. Ghu knows I've allowed you yours. As if I could stop you. So, anyway, I want to propose a toast...yes, I know I don't have a drink, that's what we're doing in this hall at this hour, looking for a sacred bheer...a toast, To Your Health Sam, May your perspective never dim, May your wit never dull, and May we find a party real soon now...with a bathroom...and more bheer.

Table & Party

PARTIES!

One of the more valid reasons for having a convention is to throw a party. CopperCon 4 is helping groups that will be hosting a party at the hotel by contributing two cases of pop and three bags of munchies to each qualified party. All we ask is that you contact us through the information desk at Convention Registration, represent an organized group that we can verify, have the party open to convention members only, and get us your room numbers and other information for posting at the Con.

We already know that there are going to be parties at the con promoting other conventions. The following are confirmed; Phoenix 1987 WorldCon Bid, the 1985 LepreCon convention, the United Federation of Phoenix (the local Star Trek club), and the T.A.R.D.I.S. (local Dr. Who club). Of course, we'll also have a well-stocked Convention Hospitality Suite open through much of the Convention.

TRIVIA BOWL

by Don Markstein

This year's Trivia Bowl will feature individual rather than team competition. But you don't have to be an expert in everything to compete. Participants will have an opportunity to influence the type of questions asked by choosing from a wide selection of categories and values, in the style of the old tv show Jeopardy.

So, if you're an expert on the old pulp heroes' spaceships, but don't know much else, you'll be able to compete on an equal footing with someone whose area of knowledge is limited to 1950's Julius Schwartz comic books. That way, someone who doesn't know the first thing about science fiction wargames can put his efforts into steering the game towards the minutaie of Lost in Space.

The outrageously valuable item(s) that will be awarded to the winner(s) will be kept a surprise (which is another way of saying that we haven't chosen it (them) yet). But whatever you do or don't get in the way of prizes you can be sure of one thing - it didn't cost me a red cent!

A signup sheet will be available at the Registration desk. The contest will take place 4-6 pm on Saturday in the Programming Room (Prescott Room). In addition, there will be a more informal, non-contest session of trivia toss-up on Sunday from 3pm until 7

VOLUNTEERS

We would like to thank all of you who have volunteered to assist us in running CopperCon this year. Please check in with our Information Desk in the Convention's Registration Lobby and let them know you want to help. They will direct you from there!

We are offering the usual substantial rewards of good company, fun times, and strange happenings. But seriously, we do need your assistance and would like to hear from you! We're always looking for people who would like to know what it's like on the inside of running a Con, and this would be a good place to learn!

CopperCon has a policy of giving complimentary memberships in the next year's CopperCon to its Committee members and volunteers. To qualify, you must spend at least four hours a day working or spend substantial time doing pre-Con work.

CON SUITE

We have a large Con Suite arranged for this year's CopperCon, including two Hospitality areas (leading out onto the pool area) and a bedroom. The second Hospitality area is used for Filking in the late hours or whenever the Filkers get going.

The bedroom is the only area where smoking is permitted. The large poolside patio is right outside the door, so you won't be cramped in any case.

We will be including beer (both light and dark), pop, munchies, veggies, nachos, and tea. Non-beverages will be served only in the evenings. Please note that no alcoholic beverages will be served to minors.

BADGES ARE REQUESTED TO BE WORN AS THEY IDENTIFY YOUR AGE AND THAT YOU ARE A CON MEMBER!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

COPPERCON SECURITY

by Clifton D. Baird

Here we are again, folks, ready to help you have a great convention! We have a few rules we'd like to have you follow while you are here.

- 1) Please leave any firearms in your room, car, or preferably at home. That also applies to any realistic model of a firearm, any projectile toy or weapon, and any form of spiked apparel.
- 2) All blades you carry must have a protective sheath or scabbard.
- 3) Unreasonable behavior, particularly when weapons are involved, will not be tolerated. Weapons which are holstered, sheathed, or peace bonded will be considered generally reasonable (see also #1 above). In all cases, the judgement of Security is the guideline by which reasonableness will be decided.
- 4) Convention badges are considered convention property until the convention is over. Badges will be punched for a first infraction and membership will be revoked and your badge will be requested to be returned for a second.

It will be great seeing you here. Ask us for help if you need any assistance.

ART SHOW

by Randall Rau

Over the years CopperCon has become a RelaxaCon, just as it was designed to be. A place to have fun after the involuntary goings on of a WorldCon. Due to the hard work of all of Phoenix Fandom, this has now become a Con to have fun at with no long forms to fill out and simple rules to follow. What art show attendees need to know is:

- 1) Any work with three or more bids will go to voice auction. Pieces with one or two bids will be sold to the last bidder. There can be direct sales if the artist so wishes. A commission of 10% on all art sold will go to the convention (it's included in the amount you bid, so the artist gets 90% of what you pay). Purchases can be paid by cash or check. With a check you need a bank guarantee and should be a member in good standing. No I.D. required with check.
- 2) There is no #2

Now, wasn't that simple! By the way, there will be a first, second, and third place ribbon for each of the following: Best Fantasy, Best Science Fiction, and Best 3-D. There will also be one for Best of Show that the Con members can vote on, so please look for the ballots when you stop by the Art show. The art auction will be at 11 am on Sunday in the Art Show room (Flagstaff Room).

To support the bid, send $5 for a pre-supporting membership, which will get you a periodic bid-progress newsletter and, if you vote for site selection at the 1986 Worldcon, a matching reduction in the price of a membership when we win the bid. For a bid t-shirt (S/M/L/XL), send $5 plus $2 P&H. For our multi-page bid statement, send a #10 SASE.

CONVENTION SUPPORT SERVICES

by Bruce Dane

CSS is that group of people who work behind the scenes to help keep the con running smoothly, provide communications and co-ordination, and who are generally there to help keep the outside world from affecting us. The CSS group consists of the following departments:

Logistics; this is that bunch of overly dedicated, highly trained and sincerely, "starved-for-something-better-to-do" individuals with names like "Gofer Paper" and "Will Uget". Logistics is responsible for getting materials to and from the convention, as well as getting all those things we both ran out of and forgot prior to the convention...generally at about 7:30 Sunday morning or 11:15 Friday night. This year, we are finally trying to find out how well logistics would work if we gave them something to work with...like, transportation equipment for the art flats...or money to buy those batteries with.

Security; this is a team effort. Security's purpose at a con is not, repeat not, to keep you from having fun. Rather, it (and the Operations group working together) has the unenviable task of keeping the hotel, the real (gasp!) world (including other con members), and petty problems from hassling you, the hotel, or the real world. For the most part, this includes watching what is happening, and having a feel for what is coming...before it actually does. A well-organized con security team will be visible when needed, and invisible when not; this is our goal.

Operations; is the last (but not least) part of CSS. Operations is responsible for the convention office, radios, logs, interfacing with the hotel and members, and in general providing a good, warm (albeit fuzzy) feeling for everyone. The idea that anyone who actually takes the time to ask questions or report a problem deserves some action or response is not new to this bunch, no way! You may have to wait for some minor crisis to either be solved or resolved, but, if you don't get a valid answer...we want to know!

As for CSS, it has been said that anyone who voluntarily and of their own free will works with us is certifiably insane, and that merely showing one's name-badge and presenting $1.50 (U.S. funds) will almost assuredly buy coffee in any Phoenix eating or drinking establishment. It has also been said that CSS is, simultaneously, the most egotistical, self-centered, humble conglomerate of truly altruistic fen ever assembled.

Oh, if you want to know what the truth is... join us and find out, first hand.

BANQUET

We have an all-you-can-eat buffet limited to 75 members of CopperCon 4. As of press time for the Program Book there were still a few tickets available. They can be purchased at the Con's Registration Table. The cost per person (including tax and gratuity, etc.) is $15.00. The banquet is from noon until 2pm on Sunday and includes a speech by our GOH's and other "entertainment".

MASK.Y.RAID CONTEST RULES

by Curt Stubbs

- 1) Honor thy Judges - keep their words as law.
- 2) Thou shalt not use or display weaponry of any kind without the express pre-arranged consent of thy mask.Y.raid coordinator.
- 3) Thou shalt not plagiarise - all costumes should be original, made up thyself, or the source of the design acknowledged.
- 4) Good taste is relative. Bad taste is subject to audience reaction.

DEALERS' ROOM

by Dave Hiatt

The Dealers' Room will be open on Friday from noon to 7 pm, Saturday 10 am to 7 pm, and Sunday 10 am to 4 pm. Dealers include The Readerie, The One Book Shop, TV Chariot, Visions, Mere Dragons, Stalking Moon Book Store, Nighthawk Studios, Pegasus Weaponry, Sleepy Lion Graphics, Adventure 3, James Reade Custom T-Shirts, Tardis, Marty Massoglia, Cristi Simila, Carla Langille, Stephen Knoll, Rusti and Shannon Smith, Barry Bard, TRANSIT, Benny Aguirre, and Ed Schoonover-Gladiator Games. As usual we have a fine variety of dealers for you to browse, and all are grateful for your business!

Please be advised that there will be enforced no smoking in the Dealers' Room.

COMPUTER ROOM

by Mark Shaheen

The computer room will be featuring Apple IIE and Commodore 64 computers. We hope that Gary Grigsby of SSI fame will be our guest speaker. He has released quite a few games; North Atlantic B6, Bomb Alley, Carrier Force, etc. Please come and meet him!

We will also have a short lecture on Apple IIE vs. Commodore 64. "Bring your gun" on Saturday 10 am to 2 pm. Plenty of programming (games) - have fun! With any luck, we may be able to arrange a big-screen tv as well (maybe).

See you there!
